

Have Your Say in just 10 minutes

Today, we're launching a new tool called WorkBuzz, to collect feedback about how we can improve our company culture, proactively address your daily challenges and become a better place to work

How it works

- You'll receive an email from WorkBuzz inviting you to voice your opinion, tell us what's working well and make suggestions about how we can improve.
- Your feedback is kept confidential and is merged with your colleagues.
- Each quarter there will be a maximum of 20 questions and it should take 10 minutes to take part.
- Within minutes of the pulse surveys closing, the results will be available for us to review and act upon.
